This matter is before the Court to consider Plaintiff’s objections to the Report and Recommendation (“R&R”) entered by the Honorable Dennis W. Dohnal, United States Magistrate Judge, on April 26, 2010, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(B), affirming the decision of the Administrative Law Judge (“ALJ”) that Plaintiff is not disabled. When a party files objections to a magistrate judge’s R&R, the Court considers de novo those portions of the R&R to which an objection has been made. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(C).

Inasmuch as Plaintiff has raised no new argument concerning the recommendations of the Magistrate Judge, and the Court perceives no error, it is ordered that Plaintiff's objections to the R&R are OVERRULED; the R&R is ACCEPTED and ADOPTED; the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment (Document No. 5) is DENIED; the Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment (Document No. 9) is GRANTED; and the decision of the Commissioner is AFFIRMED.

Let the Clerk file this Final Order electronically and notify counsel of record accordingly.

It is so ORDERED.
